

Personal Training with Gemma Hughes Cancellation Policy

Personal Trainer Cancellation policy:

- Last minute cancellations (inside of 24 hours of your scheduled appointment) will be billed at the normal rate of a single session to the client. However, 2 last minute cancellations per year, due to emergency or sudden illness, will be waived at no charge to the client.
- Note: Please be on time for your session. If you are late the session must still end on time.
- Please know that I hold myself to these same policies. As you trainer I will also be waived two last minute cancellations per year. Should I cancel any other sessions, within 24 hours of our scheduled training session, I will add one training session to your package, free of charge.

I acknowledge and fully understand the cancellation policies as stated above:
